Media/Film/Performance: Analysing Scripts for Production (3 Oct) & Screenwriting Skills (13 Oct) with UEA

Christabelle Dilks will explore the central role of scripts in creative media production. Students will learn how to analyse a short scene from a contemporary script to discover the hidden structure and character clues it contains and how these translate to production. Christabelle has also provided an excellent video to introduce the live session and prepare students for the event.

- October 3 @ 15:35 - 16:20 Media & Film: Creative Media Production - How Actors & Directors Read Film Scripts - Tutorial – UEA (KS5) Find out more » [NEW]

Then, on October 13th, Professor Steve Waters will lead a screenwriting workshop asking such questions as: why is a screenplay formatted as it is? How can your story be told visually and dramatically? What role does sound or point of view play? Using extracts from screenplays and writing exercises, this workshop offers some ways into writing for Film and Television.

University: Widening Participation (some of the criteria universities use to assess eligibility are: household income, receipt of free-school meals/sixth form bursary, first generation in a family to attend university and living in an area with low progression rates to university). Schemes often result in students receiving a slightly lower offer from the university.

Year 12 Attend Cambridge University Shadowing Scheme

The Shadowing Scheme is a free University Access Scheme that gives students the chance to visit Cambridge for three days, shadow a current undergraduate, go to lectures and social events, and receive advice from Cambridge Admissions Tutors.

Cambridge are looking for:

- students who would be the first in their family to attend university
- students who do not know anyone who has attended a top university
- mature students or adult learners who are interested in applying later in life to university

Applications are currently open and close on 9 October, and parents and teachers must complete consent forms by 16 October. Students can apply here: applytocambridge.com/shadowing/apply.
